Headteacher's Message

Friday 13th March

Dear Parents and Carers,

I do hope that this newsletter finds you well.

International Women's Day
This week in assembly I spoke to the children about International Women's Month of March and International Women's Day. I spoke to the children about three inspirational women who continue to inspire others: Rosa Parkes, Marie Curie and Malala Yousafzai. At the end of assembly, I set the children the challenge of finding out about other inspiring women and finding out three facts about them. Thank you to those children who took up this challenge; it was wonderful to reward so many headteachers awards. Well done.

NSPCC
Part of our school assembly recapped the children's charity; The NSPCC. I explained that if they were worried about someone or something that they can speak to their trusted adults or they can contact the NSPCC on 0800 11 11. Building upon this, I would like to draw your attention to the advice for families on the NSPCC website: https://www.nspcc.org.uk/advice-for-families/. This page contains a wide range of guidance and support on topics from babies and crying to growing up, which you as parents and carers may find of use and interest.

Class Assemblies
This week was the turn of 5MW to share their learning. Thank you to those who were able to come along. It is always so wonderful to welcome you these special assemblies. If your child's class assembly is coming up soon, I do hope you can make it!

Year 3 Fishbourne Roman Palace Visit
Year 3 had a fantastic day exploring Fishbourne Roman Palace. They were amazed by the beautifully preserved Roman mosaics and learning about daily life in Roman Britain. It was a memorable day that brought their topic to life.

Mothers' Day Flowers
Thank you to the PTA for arranging the special Mother's Day flower sale. This is always such a hugely popular opportunity that could not take place without the hard work of the members of the PTA and your support too.
